

aQysta

Small Farmers. Big Impact

Televisiestraat 2A, 2525 KD

Den Haag, Netherlands

Tel: +31 639000847

Mail: info@aqysta.com

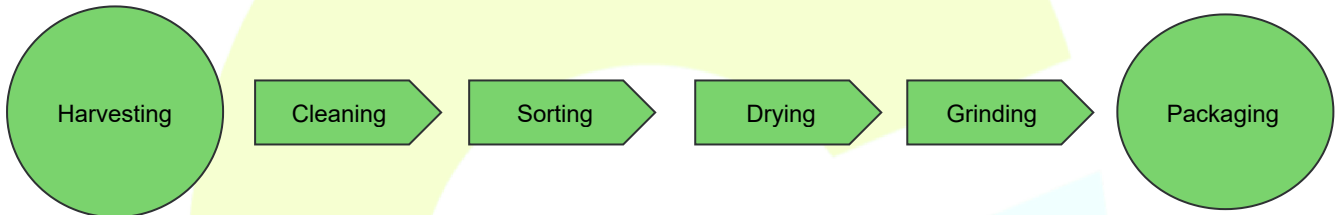

Technical Specification Sheet

General Information

Name of crop	Dried sliced Lakadong Turmeric
Botanical name	Curcuma Longa
Country of origin	Meghalaya, India
Supplied by	aQysta Irrigation India Private Limited
Intended use	Food Ingredients

Description & Post Harvest Management

Lakadong turmeric is a special variety of turmeric that is grown in Meghalaya, India. It is renowned for its high curcumin content, which gives it a vibrant yellow color and a distinct flavor. The turmeric is grown using traditional farming practices and harvested by smallholder farmers, ensuring its purity and authenticity.

Organoleptic Characteristics

Appearance/ Color	Bright, golden yellow colour
Flavour	Rich aroma with distinct earthy flavour
Artificial Colourants	Absent
Odour	Free from musty, sour or any other undesirable odour

Physical and Chemical Characteristics

Moisture	11.93 g/100g
Lead (Pb)	0.34 mg/kg
Arsenic (As)	0.06 mg/kg
Cadmium (Cd)	0.01 mg/kg
Mercury (Hg)	BLQ

aQysta

Small Farmers. Big Impact

Televisiestraat 2A, 2525 KD
Den Haag, Netherlands
Tel: +31 639000847
Mail: info@aqysta.com

Total Curcuminoids	10.48 g/100g
Ochratoxin A	BLQ
Total Aflatoxins (G2,G1,B2,B1)	BLQ

Microbiological Indicators

Pesticides / chemicals	Absent
Salmonella	Absent
Yeast & Mould	450 cfu/g
E-coli	<10 cfu/g

Packaging and shelf life

Best before 24 months after production

Storage: Dry and cool

Disclaimer:

The information in this product specification are given according to the best of our knowledge. However, it is set for guidance only.

aQysta BV holds the right of changing the product specification. Users should conduct their own analysis to determine the suitability of our product for their purpose.

